Vienna

PRACTICAL INFORMATION NOTE

I. GENERAL INFORMATION AND ORGANIZATIONAL MODALITIES

1. Aim, dates and venue of the meeting

Three Supplementary Human Dimension Meetings (SHDMs) are organized annually, in the framework of the OSCE Permanent Council, in accordance with the decision of the Permanent Council (PC.DEC/476, 23 May 2002).

These conferences serve to discuss key substantive concerns concerning human rights and democracy raised at previous Human Dimension Implementation Meetings or Review Conferences. The OSCE Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (ODIHR) and, when required, other OSCE structures and institutions assist the Chairpersonship-in-Office in preparing the SHDMs.

The second SHDM of 2026 will be held on 11 and 12 May on Safeguarding Civic Space in the Digital Age.

It will be hosted at the Hofburg Congress Centre (Heldenplatz 1010 Vienna, Austria), in the Ratsaal conference room, situated on the 5th floor of the Centre. An overflow room for participants beyond the capacity of the Ratsaal will be available in the adjacent room 533, with interpretation enabled.

2. Participation

Participants in the SHDM include representatives of OSCE participating States, OSCE institutions and other structures, inter-governmental organizations, civil society and other stakeholders having interest in the topic. OSCE Partners for Co-operation can attend and contribute with respect to their co-operation and links with the OSCE in the field. Civil society organizations can find more information below, in the Information for Civil Society section.

Supplementary Human Dimension Meeting

Safeguarding Civic Space in the Digital Age

11 and 12 May 2026

Vienna

The meeting will conclude on Tuesday, 12 May at 17.30 CET. A detailed agenda is available separately on the event webpage.

Interpretation: Simultaneous interpretation will be available in the six official OSCE languages: English, French, German, Italian, Russian, and Spanish.

Guidelines for the debate: The objective is to foster a dynamic and engaging discussion. Participants are encouraged to link their interventions to the speakers' presentations and to the discussion at hand.

Two- to three-minute interventions should be relevant to the session's topic and include a question to the speaker(s). The moderators may interrupt participants or speakers who exceed the time limit or whose intervention significantly deviates from the topic under discussion. Written statements may be submitted and circulated after the meeting.

Before opening the discussion, the moderator will ask participants to signal their wish to make oral remarks. Participants are then expected to wait for the moderator's invitation before speaking. When given the floor, participants should introduce themselves by providing their first and last names, along with the name of the organization they represent.

Participants are entitled to express their views freely, provided they respect human rights and the principle of non-discrimination. Participants are therefore asked to refrain from presenting or shouting slogans that may a.) provoke or disrupt order and safety, b.) likely to give rise to violence, c.) discriminate against others on the basis of their race, colour, sex, language, religion or belief, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status (Maastricht 2003, Ljubljana 2005), d.) condone terrorism or the use of violence. Moderators are instructed to ensure discussions align with these principles.

Right of reply: At the conclusion of each working session and the closing plenary, delegations of participating States will have the opportunity to exercise their right of reply. Delegations of participating States intending to use this right should communicate their intent to the ODIHR staff situated behind the head table, well before the session's end to ensure sufficient time allocation. Please note that each participating State delegation is entitled to exercise one right of reply per session.

Distribution of documents: All registered participants attending the SHDM can submit documents for distribution by sending them (up to a maximum of 3 pages in length) to the Document Distribution Centre at documents@osce.org. All submissions will be shared on the meetings.odihr.pl platform following the meeting.

II. INFORMATION FOR CIVIL SOCIETY

The Helsinki Document of 1992 (Chapter IV) called for increased openness in OSCE activities and for expanding the role of NGOs. In particular, in paragraph (15) of Chapter IV, the participating States agreed to facilitate during OSCE meetings “informal discussion meetings between representatives of participating States and NGOs”.

As per Chapter IV, paragraphs (15) and (16), of the Helsinki Document 1992, the provision of making “open to NGOs [...] human rights implementation meetings” does not apply to “persons or organizations which resort to the use of violence or publicly condone terrorism or the use of violence.” In line with these provisions, the organizers welcome participation by civil society organizations at the SHDM.

Any civil society participant facing reprisals or intimidation for engagement in OSCE meetings may email ODIHR at defenders@odihr.pl

III. SIDE EVENTS

Registered participants, including those representing civil society organizations, international organizations, governments and others, may request a side event slot to organize side events that align with the SHDM's primary topic. Side events serve to facilitate more informal discussions and provide an opportunity for participants to explore issues not fully addressed during the working sessions. The views expressed during the side events do not necessarily reflect the views of the OSCE.

Registered participants are welcome to request a side event slot at <https://meetings.odihr.pl> between 23 April at 13.00 CET and 24 April at 13.00 CET. More information about how to book a side event is available here. The conference organizers will reach out to participants who have requested side event slots after this time to provide final confirmation regarding the organization of their respective side events.

For details on the schedule and an overview of side events, please refer to the event's webpage, where this information will be published prior to the event.

The role of ODIHR is to co-ordinate the organization of side events and manage necessary venue arrangements. Participants have the option to request room bookings dedicated for side events at no cost. However, organizers are responsible for all other aspects, including catering, presentations and technical facilities, interpretation, financing, and content management.
