For the last 15-20 years in the case of a purely theoretical background, it was often that with revised method works. That's why I chose a community organization and that's why I signed in to Professional Fellows Program to USA.

During the program I realized that even with small problems, even if it seems insignificant to start, but let's take a moment to learn to solve even more difficult issues. The first task for settlements today is to put the emphasis on the question of the inhabitants of settlements, what do you want to do?

I am sure that community organization he actually has the power. My host organization Action NC and their team with Hector Vaca and is an example.

After Professional Fellows Program in United States of America. I have invited our mentor Hector Vaca to stay directly to us from Charlotte, North Carolina. I think that we have experienced a nice authentic week in our region. I have shown the life of the Roma in the original version as they really live. What they are thinking about, what worries, what plans they have and in which area community organization could help.

He meet with Rudi Žiga He has worked with me as social worker 2 yrs ago. Has lived for more than 20 years in marginalized Roma community. Today thanks to God live better conditions between, but always has time go to back to community and working with young Roma people. He's amazing sport organizer. His Dream is that the community will have its own playground and his community will not be so much o suffer in extreme poverty. Managed to organize training before my colleagues about community organizing. These people are all street social workers and activist in the Roma community. They fight for justice and equality everyday. With the aim have found an ecological solution within a community organization.

Activated Roma mayors, leaders, teachers, nurses, missionaries met together to listen Hector Vaca about community organizing.

And after we met with really veteran warrior for Roma. And sang for honor guest. We have shared the principles of community organization really for everyone. And of course also for those who are our target group. And they are our youth. We just started with Barbecue party end community organization with Hectors new young Roma friends. And then came the idea of working with young people in the future. And after Hector's departure, I founded the community under the title The new generation of successful Roma. If they realize their potential ... it is the first positive sign of their personality. It is important for them to have some control, control over their lives. The engagement begins in elementary school, from the early age. activists to address their current as well as future status, and there are also compromises. But it is still paying here that education, conduct to different periods during life is important ... here we lack ... in simple terms ... patterns of behavior towards the surrounding world ... and also to demands ... so there are still Romani pupils and students do not know how to do it today.

A new generation of successful Roma The aim is to educate, develop, support and mentor children who want to be successful in Business, Sports or Art, based on self-knowledge, family atmosphere and global perspective. Experience and Lifelong learning is an ideal platform for students to acquire important "life tools" such as creativity, adaptability and perseverance. A balanced personality is not only influenced by learning outcomes, but also by learning social awareness and understanding and resulting in a high degree of self-discipline. Education is passionate about the development of meaningful experiences in education and leisure. Our young people realize their potential and respect other people's opinions and teach them to make compromises when needed.

If a young Slovaks Roma want to get to these new things, they have to go through a certain stage of generational development in order to distinguish a group that is conditioned by smart thinking and that has to go through an important period of socialization with socio-cultural factors while someone in this group "scratches" to the highest social position. Who is immediately connected to the global labor market. and it is time to gain further knowledge through your own creative activities, which is a prerequisite for achieving global competence.

Our goal is to make a reference to young people that they are starting to dream because their dream can be fulfilled ... And nothing in their minds will just ignore their way of thinking.

To do this we will do everything and move everyone to achieve our goals. because that people should achieve their goals through these changes. They have to understand the principles of community organization and I believe that this path is most effective even when it's a long way. Over a year we organized many workshops for example Roma in local history.

In the framework of the Roma project in local history, he conducted a workshop with the same title, where we and a group of committed people from around the world tried to find out what place Roma and have in the interpretations of the history of their community and region. Participants and participants of the workshop have approached three methods of participatory research, which can be used to prepare activities or local projects with an emphasis on local history in the fullest possible sense.

Workshop for international affairs. Participation to politics. We managed to convince many people to help us in our work. For exemple Lucia Waldner Director of International Relations and Innovation at Credit Suisse. Ranked among the top 100 most influential women in the world. Or Community organization within the Roma community with Mária Kinga Göncz Hungarian psychiatrist, politician, minister without portfolio for equal opportunities in 2004, minister for youth, family, social and equal opportunities between 2004 and 2006, and foreign minister of Hungary between 2006 and 2009. From 18 June 2009 to 2014 Member of the European Parliament. Daughter of Árpád Göncz President in Hungary.

The 4th Alumni Reunion of Professional Fellow Program is taking place in Sinaia, Romania. More than 60 fellows from Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Slovakia, Romania and U.S. Mentors who took part in the program since 2012 are gathering together to share, learn from each other and make new connections and relationships. Through the days we will explore more the issue of Social Justice, Resistance and how to cooperate internationally in making the world better for our communities. The first day to get to know each other, get a little bit of our work and experience and open the space for building personal connections and relationships.

And will make a promise to a deputy of the National Council of the SR. Together, I write to the Roma from Gemer that I write history, being the first Hungarian-speaking Roma who became a member of the National Council in Slovakia.
